

SURVIVOR SERVICES Capabilities Statement

Advancing solutions to prevent harm and respond to the needs of survivors in the U.S. and across the globe.

The Clodburst Group, founded in 2005, is an impact-driven women-owned small business empowering communities to build social, economic, and environmental resilience in the U.S. and around the globe. Clodburst is headquartered in the Washington, D.C. area, maintains secret-level facility and staff security clearance, and has worked in over 70 countries.

WHAT WE DO

Clodburst interdisciplinary experts promote effective solutions to domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, stalking, and human trafficking to ensure that survivors benefit from the programs and resources available. Clodburst recognizes that domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, and human trafficking impact all aspects of survivors' lives, from their housing and economic status to their health and wellness and their ability to fully participate in civil society. Relying on grounded expertise from decades of work promoting survivor-centered solutions, Clodburst brings practical and best practice-driven models to help non-profits, government, and non-governmental entities reduce all forms of harm.

Clodburst provides training and technical assistance expertise at the local, state, and federal levels. Examples of our work include:

- Facilitated Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) Housing Rights and Compliance training for national housing agencies
- Supported local communities to improve domestic violence task force governance structures.
- Analyzed and developed federal reports for state-wide domestic violence and sexual assault coalitions.
- Designed tools and products for local, state and federal clients to improve services for survivors.
