TECHNICAL EXPERTISE

Housing & Community Development

Cloudburst helps clients address the housing and community development needs of low- to moderate-income communities by improving:

- Grants and financial management.
- Regulatory compliance.
- Program design and management.
- Strategic planning.

State & Local Consulting

Cloudburst experts work alongside state and local governments to develop, implement, and manage solutions to address some of the most pressing development issues facing communities today. Cloudburst consultants are experienced in housing, community, and economic development programs, requirements, and regulations.

Public Health

Cloudburst promotes effective public and behavioral health services via science- and data-based approaches to improve program performance, enable programs to rigorously demonstrate impact, and communicate their successes to key stakeholders using program data.

Environment & Climate Resiliency

Cloudburst's environmental compliance and disaster resilience experts use their regulatory expertise in the National Environmental Protection Act and 2 CFR Part 58 to decrease negative environmental, climate, or health effects from government programs.

Global Development

In its global humanitarian work, Cloudburst focuses on strengthening government programs through applied research, evaluation, training, and capacity-building that promote continuous learning and adaptation.

Homeless Assistance Programs

Cloudburst helps communities use data, implement best practices, and provide life-saving assistance to those experiencing homelessness, including during public health emergencies and natural disasters.

Survivor Services

Cloudburst helps survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking access available programs and resources. This support includes targeted training, regulatory guidance, and data-driven strategic planning. These tools empower clients to build collaborative, creative, and survivor-centered strategies.

AI & Data Solutions

Cloudburst strengthens the financial and performance management of programs using artificial intelligence, robotic process automation, and seamless predictive analytics. We offer:

- Data collection and validation.
- Data visualization (e.g., dashboards).

Research & Evaluation

Cloudburst conducts primary and secondary research (including impact, performance, and process evaluations) from design to data collection and dissemination.

Cloudburst has expertise in:

- Quantitative, qualitative, and geospatial data.
- Project monitoring and evaluation.
- Needs and gaps assessment/analysis.

Capacity Building, Training, & Events

Cloudburst builds capacity through training and technical support, including:

- Instructional design, eLearning, and communities of practice.
- Conferences, events, workshops, and forums.
- Help desks and program support.
- Organizational development and staff skill building.

Communications & Knowledge Management

Cloudburst's experts in writing, photography, videography, animation, motion design, graphic design, and websites help clients reach stakeholders and target audiences by:

- Developing/managing websites and social media.
- Creating high-quality and Section 508-accessible products per branding standards.
